

WINTER SCHOOL:
HEALTH COMPETENCE IN THE
INTERPROFESSIONAL TEAM
Reshaping health care

5 - 9 FEBRUARY 2024
HEALTH CAMPUS BAD KÖTZTING

Are you interested in improving the healthcare system of the future?

For students of various health science degree programmes with a passion for developing innovative solutions:

Apply now and be part of the winter school at the Health Campus Bad Kötzing!

We aim at developing innovative project ideas in an interdisciplinary team to provide health competence in different settings. You will master new capabilities to work in health promotion. Participating in the winter school will prepare you for your future career in health promotion in an interprofessional team.

Facts:

- Free participation (travel costs and accommodation, breakfast included)
- Classes in German
- Optional, exciting Evening programme to get to know each other and connect
- Winter school's highlight: presentation of your own ideas to experts who will provide feedback
- Participation certificate and 2 ECTS

Application:

- Participation is limited to 26 people
- Please apply until 14 January 2024 at the contact person at your university

You have to upload a CV, a short motivational letter and your transcript of records to a portal, but you will receive further information via mail after sending your application.

A trilateral, interdisciplinary event with:

